Overview

About Alex

Alex Gelberg is a principal in the Southern California office of Fish & Richardson P.C. His practice emphasizes patent litigation in the areas of electrical engineering and computer science, including semiconductors and integrated circuitry, satellite technology, computer networks, computer architecture, memory design, backup and recovery software, virtualization, face recognition, Internet and e-commerce, video and audio compression, and others.

Mr. Gelberg's experience includes numerous matters in U.S. district and appellate courts across the country, as well as before the U.S. International Trade Commission. He has also worked on multiple post-grant cases filed with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. In addition, Mr. Gelberg regularly represents pro bono clients in appellate immigration proceedings, including matters before the Board of Immigration Appeals and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Mr. Gelberg previously worked at Yahoo! where he was a member of the patent asset development group. Prior to joining the legal field, he was a principal engineer with DIRECTV where he developed traffic and scheduling software for linear and non-linear broadcast.
