Overview

About Chad

Chad Roberts is the transfers manager in the Twin Cities office of Fish & Richardson P.C. Under the direction of the director of risk management and legal compliance, Mr. Roberts is responsible for workflow, contributing advance technical expertise, and training and knowledge of the transfer and compliance processes according to policies and procedures set forth by the firm. Mr. Roberts also works closely with other departments as well as the legal staff on proper transfer procedures.

Mr. Roberts joined the firm in 2001 as a litigation project assistant and has spent the whole of his career at the firm. Prior to his role as senior transfer supervisor, Mr. Roberts was a litigation case manager, where he became a resident expert in the electronic discovery process and was regularly sought after for his abilities as lead trial paralegal. To that end, Mr. Roberts participated in over a dozen trials in his career.
