About Christine

Christine Duffy is responsible for identifying and driving innovative change initiatives for Fish & Richardson's litigation group. A certified knowledge manager, Ms. Duffy had a major role in the design, development, and launch of many of the innovative knowledge management tools in Fish's eFISHency™ legal services suite that make their collective knowledge accessible and help the firm's litigators achieve their clients' objectives at a price that is an outstanding value – all provided at Fish quality. She leads the development and delivery of a training program that ensures that all Fish attorneys realize their full potential as advocates, counselors, and leaders.
