

Why Work @ Fish?

Fish & Richardson is a leading global law firm practicing in the areas of intellectual property and litigation. Founded in 1878, the firm prosecuted and litigated many of the fundamental patents of an industrializing America: the telephone, the airplane, the lightbulb, and the radio. For over 140 years, Fish has been serving great innovators, helping protect countless ideas, nurturing discoveries, and facilitating the entry of new concepts to market. Today Fish continues to be the go-to IP firm for great innovators in cutting-edge technologies who value their intellectual property.

Why Work @ Fish?

Career Growth. Our uniquely collaborative culture and commitment to teamwork ensures early client responsibility for Associates.

Training. Our IP-focused platform allows for specialized training that simulates real client work in an environment designed for learning.

Pro Bono Commitment. Fish attorneys donated over 19,000 pro bono hours in 2017.

We are the best at what we do:

#1 in Intellectual Property
Vault, 2018-2019

Best Law Firm for Women, Minority and LGBT Attorneys
Women in Law Empowerment Forum, Yale Law Women, Law360, and HRC CEI

Patent Litigation Law Firm of the Year
U.S. News - Best Lawyers, 2017

Top "Tier 1" IP Rankings in Every National Category
Managing Intellectual Property, 2011-2017

IP Practice Group of the Year
Law360, 2011-2017

Top Trademark Law Firm
World Trademark Review 1000, 2011-2017

#1 Top Patent Litigation Firm in the Country for 13 consecutive years, handling more patent litigation than any other law firm.
Corporate Counsel, 2004-2016