On July 15, 2019, the USPTO published its second update to the AIA Trial Practice Guide. This update primarily incorporates decisions that the PTAB has designated as precedential since the first update in August 2018, and it covers a wide variety of topics ranging from the filing of a petition to the re-opening of proceedings following remand from the Federal Circuit. Join Fish Principal David Holt and Associate Kenneth Darby for our latest Post-Grant for Practitioners webinar, where our hosts will take a deep dive into these topics and more, including:

- Claim construction
- Patent owner preliminary responses
- Discretionary trial institution

Fish & Richardson P.C. is an accredited CLE provider by the California, New York, and Texas State Continuing Legal Education Boards (California Provider Number 4933). Fish & Richardson will apply for 1.0 hour of CLE credit in some additional states. Credit will be awarded only to attorneys that report their required CLE states during their registration process and that log in and complete the webinar in its entirety. Note that Fish is unable to grant CLE credit to attendees that listen to the audio portion only. This program is designed for and open to all attorneys.

If you have questions, please contact Angela Park.

Agenda

- Claim Construction
 - Petitioner's initial responsibility to take a position
 - Limited scope of claim construction issues raised in reply
 - Prior statements and determinations from co-pending litigation
 - Juggling parallel post-grant and district court proceedings
- Patent Owner Preliminary Responses
 - Sample argument checklist
 - Pre-institution testimonial evidence
 - Opportunities to influence the proceeding
- Discretionary Institution: Parallel Petitions
 - Nuts-and-bolts of new procedure
 - Examples from the Trial Guide Update and Comcast v. Rovi
- Joinder Motions

Claim Construction

Claim Construction

The Parties

- If a term requires an express construction, the petitioner “must” articulate and support a proposal in the petition.
- If the petitioner believes no terms require construction, a statement to this effect will suffice.
- The petitioner can respond to any claim construction issues raised by the patent owner, but cannot raise “new” issues.
- Each party bears the burden of providing sufficient support for its proffered construction.
- Constructions contested in the preliminary phase of the trial will be addressed in the Board’s institution decision.

Claim Construction

The Board

- The Board can raise a construction issue “on its own.”
- If so, both parties will be afforded an “opportunity to respond.”
- Hamilton Beach Brands, Inc. v. f’real Foods, LLC, 908 F.3d 1328, 1339 (Fed. Cir. 2018)
 - No APA violation because the parties had notice of the Board’s proposed construction and an opportunity to respond.
 - The “opportunity” came live at the oral hearing.

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Initial Responsibility

“If a petitioner believes that a claim term requires an express construction, the petitioner must include a statement identifying a proposed construction of the particular term and where the intrinsic and/or extrinsic evidence supports that meaning. On the other hand, a petitioner may include a statement that the claim terms require no express construction.”

July Trial Guide Update, p.13

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Initial Responsibility

“[T]he petition must set forth . . . How the challenged claim is to be construed. . . . [And] [h]ow the construed claim is unpatentable[.]”

37 C.F.R. §§ 42.104(b)(3)-(4).

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Initial Responsibility

Public comments questioning 37 C.F.R. § 42.104(b)(3):

- Comment 35: Burdensome and will cause delays
- Comment 36: The DCt approach is better
- Comment 37: Not enumerated by statute
- Comment 38: Both parties should brief and respond to the Board's decision on claim construction

77 Fed. Reg. 48,680, 48,699-700 (Aug. 14, 2012).

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Initial Responsibility

“The Office believes that the petitioner’s claim construction requirement will improve the efficiency of the proceeding. As discussed previously, the petitioner’s claim construction will help to provide sufficient notice to patent owner on the proposed grounds of unpatentability, and assist the Board in analyzing how a cited prior art [reference] meets the claim limitation.”

77 Fed. Reg. 48,680, 48,700 (Aug. 14, 2012).

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Initial Responsibility

“Petitioners are not required to define every claim term, but merely to provide a statement that the claim terms are presumed to take on their ordinary and customary meaning, and to point out any claim term that has a special meaning and the definitions in the specification.”

77 Fed. Reg. 48,680, 48,700 (Aug. 14, 2012).

Claim Construction

Petitioner's Opportunity to React in Reply

“The petitioner may respond to any such new claim construction issues raised by the patent owner, but cannot raise new claim construction issues that were not previously raised in its petition.”

July Trial Guide Update, p.13.

Claim Construction

Means Plus Function Claims

- A petitioner “must” provide a construction of any terms that “may” be subject to 35 U.S.C. § 112(f).
- Failure to construe 112(f) terms may lead to denial of institution pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 42.104(b)(3).
 - Orthopediatrics Corp. v. K2M, Inc., No. IPR2018-01547, Paper 9 at 6–11.
- The parties may choose to explain why 112(f) should or shouldn’t apply to specific terms under Williamson v. Citrix Online, LLC, 792 F.3d 1339.

Claim Construction

Prior Determinations Under Phillips

- The Board will “consider” any prior claim construction determination from a district court or the ITC that is “timely” made of record.
- “Consider” – The Board will give prior determinations “appropriate weight.”
 - Similarities between the PTAB record and the district court or ITC record
 - Status of the prior determination (final or interlocutory?)
 - Origin of the prior determination (contested or stipulated?)
- “Timely” – Parties should submit prior determinations ASAP.
 - Preferably with a corresponding paper (e.g., petition, response); otherwise as supplemental information
 - Mandatory under 42.51(b) if inconsistent with a position advanced by a party during the proceeding

Claim Construction

Prior Statements Under Phillips

- The Board will consider prior statements made by either party in other proceedings.
 - Must be timely submitted
 - Must be identified with specificity
 - Must be explained
- Prosecution history from other AIA proceedings will be considered.
 - Could support a disclaimer theory
 - Aylus Networks, Inc. v. Apple Inc., 856 F.3d 1353, 1360–61 (Fed. Cir. 2017) (finding disclaimer based on POPR statements)

Claim Construction

Juggling Parallel Proceedings

- Prior art applies to each party's DCt construction
 - Alternative grounds address alternative constructions (Instituted)
 - U.D. Elec. Corp. v. Pulse Elec's., Inc.,
IPR2019-00511, Paper 10 at 13-14, 37-38
 - Same ground covers alternative constructions (Instituted)
 - Semiconductor Components Industries, LLC v. Power Integrations, Inc.,
IPR2018-01811, Paper 11 at 12-14, 24-26
- Prior art applies only to patent owner's DCt construction
 - PO's construction proposed and supported with evidence (Instituted)
 - Western Digital Corp. v. SPEX Tech's, Inc.,
IPR2018-00084, Paper 14 at 9-12
 - General Elec. Co. v. Vestas Wind Systems A/S,
IPR2018-00928, Paper 9 at 11-17
 - PO's construction articulated w/o support and disparaged (Denied)
 - Hologic, Inc. v. Enzo Life Sciences, Inc.,
IPR2018-00019, Paper 21 at 3-7

Claim Construction

Juggling Parallel Proceedings

- Petitioner's DCt construction implies indefiniteness
 - No effect on prior art comparison (Institution Decision Sustained)
 - Mylan Pharm. v. Horizon Pharma USA, IPR2018-00272, Paper 35 at 5-8
 - Claim still amenable to construction (Instituted)
 - Intex Recreation v. Bestway (USA), IPR2019-00454, Paper 7 at 9-13
 - Prior art comparison precluded (Denied)
 - Facebook v. Sound View Innovations, IPR2017-00998, Paper 13 at 8-14
 - BlackBerry v. MobileMedia Ideas, IPR2013-00036, Paper 65 at 19–20
 - Apple v. Valencell, IPR2017-00319, Paper 10 at 12–14
 - MPF claims lacking structure cannot be compared to the prior art (Denied)
 - Becton, Dickinson & Co. v. Baxter Int'l., IPR2018-01741, Paper 8 at 14-16
 - CareFusion Corp. v. Baxter Int'l., IPR2016-01456, Paper 9 at 6-10

Patent Owner Preliminary Responses

Preliminary Response

A Handy Argument Checklist

- Petitioner is statutorily barred
- Asserted references are not “printed publications”
- Prior art lacks a “material” claim limitation
- Prior art does not disclose what petitioner says it does
- Petitioner’s claim interpretation is unreasonable
- The Board should exercise its 325(d), 314(a) discretion

Preliminary Response

Testimonial Evidence

- Permitted since April 2016 rule change.
- A “genuine issue of material fact” created by such evidence will be viewed in favor of petitioner at the institution stage.
 - Affords petitioner an opportunity to cross-examine the declarant
- “Dueling experts” do not necessarily raise a genuine issue of material fact.
 - Mortgage Grader, Inc. v. First Choice Loan Servs. Inc., 811 F.3d 1314
 - Expert reports from both parties immaterial
 - KTEC, Inc. v. Vita-Mix Corp., 696 F.3d 1364
 - Expert reports not credible and lacked a “rational underpinning”
 - Minkin v. Gibbons, P.C., 680 F.3d 1341
 - Expert report silent on critical fact question

Preliminary Response

Testimonial Evidence

- Patent Owner may choose not to rely on pre-institution testimony in the instituted trial.
 - Must notify the Board, e.g., by affirmatively withdrawing the testimony in the Patent Owner Response
 - Declarant of withdrawn testimony will “usually” not be subject to deposition
- Submission of testimonial evidence may warrant a reply brief from the petitioner.
 - Requires a showing of “good cause”
 - A rare remedy in view of the Board’s time constraints

Preliminary Response

Strategic Options for Influencing the Proceeding

- Waiver of Preliminary Response
 - Increases likelihood of institution
 - Expedites the proceeding (35 U.S.C. 314(b); ID w/in 3 months)
- Statutory Disclaimer
 - All Challenged Claims:
 - Avoids institution; trial terminated
 - PO estoppel under 42.73(d)(3)(i) attaches
 - Arthrex, Inc. v. Smith & Nephew, Inc., 880 F.3d 1345
 - Subset of Challenged Claims
 - Institution decision based only on remaining claims
 - PO estoppel under 42.73(d)(3)(i) likely does not attach
 - Daikin Indus., Ltd. v. Chemours Co. FC, LLC, IPR2018-0993, Paper 12 at 5

Discretionary Institution: Parallel Petitions

Parallel Petitions

The Bottom Line

- Multiple contemporaneously filed petitions may be burdensome and raise fairness/timing/efficiency concerns.
- Only in “rare” circumstances will two petitions against the same patent be deemed necessary.
 - Circumstances warranting three or more petitions are “unlikely.”
- A petitioner filing multiple petitions must:
 - Rank the petitions in the order it wishes the Board to consider the merits; and
 - Explain the material differences between the petitions and justify institution of more than one.

Parallel Petitions

The Details

- A petitioner that filed before publication of the July Trial Guide Update “may” be authorized by the Board to file an additional paper explaining/justifying multiple petitions.
- A petitioner that files after publication is “expected” to explain/justify multiple filings in the first instance.
 - Either in the petition or a separate 5-page paper
- A patent owner will be afforded a separate 5-page paper with the preliminary response to rebut petitioner’s rationale.

Parallel Petitions

Trial Guide Examples

- Multiple petitions may be needed where:
 - Patent owner has asserted a large number of claims in litigation; and/or
 - There is a dispute about the priority date that requires multiple alternative prior art grounds.
- Beyond disputing petitioner's justification, patent owner may proffer stipulations that resolve issues raised by petitioner.
 - E.g., “a stipulation that certain claim limitations are not disputed or that certain references qualify as prior art”

Parallel Petitions

Comcast v. Rovi (IPR2019-00224-229) Example

Alleged Material Differences Between Petitions and Rebuttals

- PET: Certain prior art more/less susceptible to swear behind attack
 - PO: agreed not to swear behind
- PET: Certain prior art more/less susceptible to 325(d) attack
 - PO: advancing art not considered by the examiner is a strategic choice
- PET: Some petitions advance anticipation, others obviousness
 - PO: structuring the proffered grounds under anticipation/obviousness is a strategic choice
- PET: Some primary references stronger/weaker on key feature
 - PO: select the best art; avoid “shotgun approach”
- PET: Different art references provide key features under PO’s shifting claim construction positions
 - PO: allegations of shifting positions are immaterial/unfounded

Joinder Motions

Joinder Motions

New Points Worth Noting

- “A party who files a motion for joinder should arrange a conference call with the panel, petitioner, and patent owner of the first proceeding within five business days of filing the motion.”
- Guidance re issue joinder pursuant to Proppant Express
 - “Only where fairness requires it and to avoid undue prejudice to a party”
 - Expects to permit such joinder “only in extremely limited circumstances” (e.g., late additions of claims in litigation)
 - Keep an eye on Facebook, Inc. v. Windy City Innovations, LLC, Appeal No. 2018-1400
